New System For Street Lighting

Public Works Board Accepts New Street Lighting Contract—50 Per Cent More Efficiency at Practically Same Cost—Contract Price $45,510 Yearly.

Kingston is to have a modern street lighting system at approximately the same cost as the present antiquated system which was installed eleven years ago by the Kingston Gas & Electric Company. The new system will increase the street lighting fifty per cent, according to the estimate of expert engineers who have approved the proposed plan, at a cost to the city of $45,510 per year, which is about the same amount the city is now paying for its street lighting.

Early last year the Kingston Gas & Electric Company submitted to the board of public works a proposed contract for lighting the city's streets. Several meetings were held with officials of the electric company, but the board was unable to come to an agreement. The main objection of the board's lighting committee to the proposed contract was the price of the proposed new lights to replace the present small incandescent lights. The new lights, which are to be of sixty candlepower, will cost $23.50 per year each.

While the matter of a new contract was hanging fire, the present contract with the electric company was continued in force. When Mayor Morris Block assumed office the first of the year he brought up the matter of the proposed contract and believed that some action should be taken in the matter.

At the last meeting of the board of public works in May, it was decided to hold a meeting with the officials of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company to talk over the proposed contract.

Monday afternoon the board met at the city hall with Ernest R. Acker and Charles A. Lasher of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, and the matter was thoroughly threshed out. At the close of the meeting, Dr. George F. Chandler, a member of the board, moved that the city accept the street lighting contract based upon the estimate of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company that it would cost $45,510 per year. The motion was seconded by Commissioner John Hiltebrant and unanimously adopted.

The electric company will have a contract prepared and it will first be submitted to Corporation Counsel James Jenkins before it is finally accepted.

The new system calls for a more even distribution of street lights which will increase the street lighting fifty per cent. In place of the present antiquated arc lights there will be installed modern lights of 600 candlepower, while 60 candlepower lights will replace the present incandescent lights. The Kingston Gas Electric Company claim it will cost the company about $32,000 to make the installation of the new system.

Daugherty May Not Appear Friday

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 3.—Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty has been advised by his counsel to appear Friday before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee, it was learned today.

The committee ordered Paul Howland, one of Daugherty's counsel, to instruct the former attorney general to be on hand Friday to take the stand. Howland announced he would inform the committee tomorrow whether Daugherty would obey the instructions.

Friends have told Daugherty he should ask a postponement because, as a delegate to the Republican national committee, his duties require him to be in Cleveland.

They have urged Daugherty to inform the committee that he will appear after the convention if the committee desires.

The suggestion has been advanced in reliable quarters that Daugherty would refuse to appear at all, basing his refusal on the decision of the federal court in Cincinnati in the case of his brother, Mal S. Daugherty, who challenged the right of the committee to compel attendance of witnesses. The court granted Mal Daugherty a writ of habeas corpus, releasing him from the custody of sergeant at arms.

Coolidge Lowers Our Tax Burden

Signs Tax Reduction Bill Reducing Taxes by Millions—To Demand Further Tax Reform—Putting Reduction in Effect.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 3.—The tax burden of millions of Americans was lower today than it was 24 hours ago, as the result of the signing of the tax reduction bill by President Coolidge, but the great tax fight of 1924 is not ended.

Into the presidential campaign and finally into the second session of the 68th congress, convening in December, the president has determined to carry his demand for "tax reform," and for the elimination from the new revenue law of the "unsatisfactory provisions" which he was compelled to accept against his will in order to effect any kind of tax reduction at this time.

Referring to "unfortunate influences" which was brought to bear in congress to defeat the Mellon income tax schedules and put the Democratic insurgent Republican rates into the tax bill, the president declared that the law, as now written, "does not represent a sound permanent tax policy."

"A correction of its defects may be left to the next session of congress," he said. "I trust a bill less political and more truly economic may be passed at that time."

The reduction in federal revenue under the new law, most of which goes into effect on July 1, is estimated at $360,000,000, but treasury actuaries do not anticipite that a deficit will result.

The immediate effect of the law will be the flat 25 per cen treduction in all income taxes payable this year, that is, due for the calendar year 1923.

Putting Reduction in Effect.

This reduction can be put into effect by the taxpayer himself. Two methods have been suggested for accomplishing it. They are:

1. Take the amount of the total tax due on March 15, 1924. Deduct 25 per cent from that amount. Deduct the amount of tax paid on March 15. Divide the remainder in three parts and pay it on June 15, September 15 and December 15.

2. Cut the second installment of tax, due on June 15, in half, and deduct 25 per cent from the installments due on September 15 and December 15.

Persons who paid the full tax on March 15, will receive a 25 per cent refund from the treasury without asking for it. Secretary Mellon already submitted to congress an estimate of $20,000,000 to make these refunds.

Not until next year will the principal effect of the new law be felt. That is the 50 per cent reduction in normal income tax rates. The reduction applies to incomes of 1924, but the tax is not due until 1925.

The surtax schedules under the new law range from one per cent on $10,000 up to 40 per cent on $500,000, compared with the old maximum rate of 50 per cent. Secretary Mellon had sought to have this maximum reduced to 25 per cent, but his efforts were futile.

A 25 per cent reduction also goes into effect next year on all earned incomes up to $10,000, and within 30 days the taxes on theater admissions, telegraph and telephone messages, soft drinks, candy—all the so-called nuisance taxes—will be abolished.

In figuring the new income taxes, ne exemptions for heads of families with incomes of $5,000 is increased from $2,000 to $2,500, but no change is made in the $1,000 exemption for unmarried persons.

President Coolidge's statement criticizing the tax bill which he signed was a 2,500 word document containing an exhaustive discussion of the economic principles of taxation.

"We are confronted with a plan of taxation," he said, "which punishes energy and initiative and must decrease revenue. Such a plan will ultimately work harm to the country and should not be permitted to continue much longer."

The reference here was to the failure of congress to make a sweeping reduction in the surtaxes on big incomes.

Regulations providing for the administration of the new tax law were being drafted at the treasury department today and will be issued shortly.

Chicago Case May Parallel Thaw's

Alienists Are Being Marshalled for Defense of Millionaires' Sons—Alleged Typewritten Confession Witheld From Public.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—A battle of alienists which may surpass that offered by the Thaw trial was foreshadowed today in preparations for the defense of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, held for the confessed slaying of Robert Franks.

That insanity would enter into the defense structure was hinted by Benjamin Bachrach of defense counsel.

"I cannot see how a sane person ever could commit such a crime," he stated, but hurried to add: "This does not mean we will make an insanity plea."

Meantime the state, which already has had the youths examined by alienists, was making further moves to anticipate similar tactics of the defense. To the alienist staff which the state already had established, including Doctors William A. Krohn, Hugh T. Patrick and Archibald Church, was added Dr. H. Douglas Singer.

State's Attorney Crowe has assembled what he terms "the perfect murder case" and against it, is his belief there can be but one defense, that the cunningly schemed and carefully executed slaying of Robert Franks was planned by a mind, or minds, in which reason had been unseated.

Unlike many other famous murder trials of the past, this one is likely to be sensational in the very assembling of evidence at the proceedings against the youths. Although recognizing and heeding the public cry for vengeance and announcing here and there various developments in the work of solving the crime, Crowe has withheld from the gaze of newspaper reporters the alleged confession typed by stenographers. This document, according to public belief, has revealed to the state's attorney's staffs bits of evidence which they may be able to bring into the trial as bombs of testimony to offset any tactics of defense counsel.

Statements appearing in newspapers are now for the purpose of testing the public mind, the drift of thought in opposite plans, the temper of attorneys, judges, police, etc., the preliminary that always has its play in any important criminal case. That is admitted by Clarence Darrow, nationally known attorney and chief counsel for the two youths in declaring:

"We do not want to hurry. It would be like trying the case at a town meeting. We must wait until this mob hysteria subsides. We would not have a ghost of a chance now in trying to select an impartial jury."

The million dollars' struggle of vengeance versus life for two youths is already on. The scenes are slowly shifting as alienists are mobilized, legal precedent broken, attorneys consulted and future plans laid. The Supreme court of the state of Illinois already has been marshalled into part of the scheme. Darrow will fight to keep the reputed confession from the court. He contends no confession made to a state's attorney could be made to stand up in the Supreme court. There would be no chance, he said, to prove it was not obtained under duress.

The first definite move by the state's attorney's office in preparation for the million dollar battle was made when witnesses in the case were instructed to appear before the grand jury at 2 p. m. today.

Jap Exclusion Worries Britain

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, June 3.—British officials are anxious today lest exclusion of the Japanese by the United States will drive the Japanese further into Asia and lead them to seek a foothold in the Persian and Roumanian oil fields.

Either of these prospects would be displeasing to Great Britain, owing to British territorial interests in Asia and British financial interests in the Persian and Roumanian oil fields.

It was recently reported that Japan was seeking business expansion and had sent agents to Persia and Roumania to study the prospects. If the Japanese obtained important interests in the petroleum fields, it would open the way to partial colonization.

Great Britain is opposed to an increase of Japanese influence in China, owing to the possible menace to India.

Coolidge Sent Congratulations

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 3.—Through the commander of the air ship Shenandoah, President Coolidge sent the following message to Governor Smith of New York:

"Accept my heartiest congratulations on the three hundredth anniversary of the city of Albany. It is eminently fitting that this historic city which has witnessed the first steamboat voyage, the opening of the Erie Canal and the development of our great transportation systems, should be visited on this occasion by the first rigid airship to be designed and built in this country."

Vice President From Middle West

Governor Lowden's Refusal to Accept Republican Nomination Disappointing—Cleveland Delegates Discuss Other Candidates.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland, O., June 3—The intention of Senator Robert M. LaFollette to run independently for the presidency unless the old parties inject copious quantities of "progressivism" into their platform and policies for 1924 has made it absolutely imperative that a running mate be found for President Coolidge who hails from the great open spaces of the restless corn and wheat belt—this represents the well nigh unanimous opinion among members of the Republican national committee and other party leaders pouring into Cleveland today for the convention.

In this connection it was learned here today that Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois, the preponderant choice of many party leaders, has within the past week definitely declined the job. He was told, presumably advisedly that second place on the ticket was his for the asking, and he replied that under no circumstances would he accept it, according to the story. To hints that possibly he would be "drafted", he is said to have responded that if this were done he would refuse the nomination after it was made.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, has similarly declined to allow his name to go before the convention, according to his friends here.

Governor Lowden is the first choice among a large percentage of the leaders now arriving here. Not only is he "right" from a geographical standpoint, but he enjoys the distinction of being the head of the largest co-operative marketing organization extant and is considered to have wide appeal to and acquaintances among the embattled farmers of the grain belt.

Governor Lowden's refusal of the vice-presidential honor, even after assured of White House backing, gives him a record for consistency that has seldom been equalled. Since the presidency slipped from his grasp at Chicago four years ago, he has steadfastly refused office and in the short space of three years nas turned down at least three cabinet posts and an equal number of ambassadorial appointments.

The vice-presidency and the platform to be selected here are the only outstanding problems the convention will deal with, and the talk among the early arrivals is almost exclusively confined to these matters.

With Lowden and Borah seemingly out of it, the name of L. J. Dickinson, congressman from Iowa and leader of the house farm bloc, was mentioned prominently and frequently today particularly by those who hail from the territory in which Senator LaFollette is supposed to have an especial influence.

Judge William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, Senator Pepper, of Pennsylvania, Ex-Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, General Charles Dawes, of Illinois, and President Burton of the University of Michigan were others whose names figured prominently in the lobby gossip.

The Burton talk is distinctly new, and it may be significant. He was selected by President Coolidge only a few days ago to place his name in nomination, the selection coming as somewhat of a surprise, and inevitably it led to considerable speculation among westerners as to whether the Micigan educator was not destined for further White House support in the convention.

William M. Butler, the president's campaign manager and soon-to-be chairman of the national committee, and Frank W. Stearns of Boston, who between them are looked upon as being Mr. Coolidge's spokesmen in the convention, were here today but they were taking no part in the general conferences among incoming members of the national committee. They had nothing to say either as to candidacies or platform planks.

The national committee was practically assembled today, and they with their friends, gave Cleveland lobbies a pre-convention atmosphere.

The committee meets tomorrow to hear testimony in six contests—Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, South Carolina, Tennessee and District of Columbia.

Ford Car Down Bank.

Monday evening a resident of Rifton stopped his Ford car at the bend in the road on top of the hill leading to the Eddyville bridge in order to repair a tire. He forgot to put the brakes on the car and it started rolling and shot off the road and down the embankment. Later, after several attempts, it was gotten back on the road. No one was in the car at the time.

Garden Club Ball Ends Gay Season

Enormous Crowd Expected at Armory Tomorrow Night When Brilliant Ball Closes City's Busiest Social Season.

The New York State Armory in this city probably will be taxed to its capacity tomorrow night when the big ball given under the auspices of The Ulster Garden Club for the benefit of the Academy Park improvement fund, will bring the season of social functions to a fitting close. There will be no more big dances in the city until fall.

Throughout the 1923-24 season, the attendance at the big social affairs at the armory has increased progressively, each dance apparently being better than the preceding dance, and The Garden Club's big ball tomorrow will be the climax of the year.

Famous Orchestra Here.

Kingston dancers and lovers of good dance music are high in their praise of The Ulster Garden Club in securing such a well known dance orchestra as Markel's for the big ball, and the fact that Markel will personally lead his famous band of musicians is a guarantee that a program of unusual excellence for dancing will be carried out. Markel has been playing for numerous noted society affairs in New York during the winter and was persuaded to come to Kingston by knowledge of the purpose for which the ball is being given.

The success of all previous dances and other social functions given under the auspices of The Ulster Garden Club is a striking tribute to the good time which the club always has arranged for everyone who attends its affairs. The big ball tomorrow night will not be an exception to the long established rule of The Garden Club to give the people what they want.

For Academy Park Improvement.

Because of this well recognized principle of The Garden Club, Academy Park is now undergoing extensive improvements in addition to the magnificent pool now being constructed there, the gift to the city of Mrs. Charles F. Cantine. No city along the Hudson river has a finer park than Academy Park, and the completion of the improvements undertaken by Mrs. Cantine and by The Ulster Garden Club will be a matter of pride for every resident of Kingston city and the county of Ulster. Completion of The Garden Club's plan to beautify Academy Park will be insured by a record-breaking attendance at the armory ball tomorrow night.

Flower Booth Novelties.

The flower booth will have many attractive flowers, seedlings, slips and cuttings for sale. One of the most interesting of the novelties for sale at that booth will be ivy from Mt. Serrat, Spain, where the Holy Grail was taken. There will also be sold blue and pink Petunias, salmon pink Zinnias, Clarkia, English cowslips, Sedum, Chrysanthemums. Cut flowers also will be on sale, but no shrubs.

Rare Decorations Promised.

In conformity witlf its name and work, The Ulster Garden Club will include in its decorations of the armory many rare plants, shrubs and flowers. Members of The Garden Club are requested to send to the armory on Wednesday morning, large branches of pink and yellow Weigelia or other shrubs of the same color.

Chinese Bandits Demand Ransom

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Hong Kong, June 3.—Two kidnapped missionaries, Dr. H. C. Miller and Dr. Jacray, who were subsequently released by Chinese bandits, have arrived at Wuchow after a harrowing journey across a desolate range of mountains, bearing a demand for ransom and military supplies, according to advices from Wuchow today.

The brigands gave the two missionaries a letter asking for $100,000 in cash and for a store of fighting materials. They said the other captured missionaries would not be released until the demands were met.

Giant Dirigible Over Kingston

Pride of United States Navy, Traveling Fast, Watched By Thousands As She Cleaved Through Air On Way to Albany Celebration.

The Shenandoah, giant dirigible of the United States Navy on its way from Lakehurst, N. J., to Albany, was viewed by residents of this city with awe and delight as the big ship following the course of the Hudson passed here this morning at 10:45 o'clock.

Business was suspended while the pride of the United States Navy was floating through the air, glistening like a huge white fish in the sunlight, while employes watched the giant dirigible out of sight. Many took advantage of flat roof buildings to see the airship. Salutes from the tugs of Cornell Steamboat Company announced its arrival here.

When the Shenandoah left Newburgh, five taps were sounded on the fire alarm bells, a signal for local people to be on the lookout. The monster ship of the air seemed to be flying very slowly as she passed by here and the name "U. S. Navy" was easily discernible from the downtown section.

As the Shenandoah was passing over Pouckhockie, where the high points were lined with people anxious to obtain a view of the famous air craft, it was evident that she was following the course of the river closely on her way to Albany. Her whirling propellers were plainly visible to the naked eye. At the stern was painted the big star. There were no numbers visible.

The morning sky yas a dull gray and against that background it was hardly possible to distinguish the big ship at a considerable distance, and if one had not been looking for her it would have proven difficult to locate her in the sky until she was comparatively near.

As she swept majestically overhead the whirl of her propellers could be plainly heard.

The big dirigible left the naval air station at Lakehurst this morning at 8:20 o'clock and was handled by a full crew of thirty-four. The ship took the air without difficulty and maneuvered easily. Atmospheric conditions were said to be almost ideal. The big ship passed over New York city at 9:10 o'clock. The trip up the Hudson to this city was made in about one hour and a half, which is sufficient proof that the pride of the United States Navy was traveling faster than one imagined.

Discussion among many Kingstonians developed a belief that the giant dirigible was traveling at a slow rate of speed when passing Kingston, but a slight calculation will prove that the air ship was going fast.

The distance between New York city and Newburgh is 56 miles. The Shenandoah passed over New York at 9:10 a. m. The official time at which she passed Newburgh was not announced, but it was about 10:15 o'clock. The distance from Newburgh to Kingston is 32 miles. The official time when the Shenandoah passed Poughkeepsie was 10:28, and the distance from Poughkeepsie and Kingston is sixteen miles. She reached Kingston at 10:45 a. m.

As it passed over Poughkeepsie it encountered a driving wind and rain storm. The dirigible was flying very low.

Lt. Commander Zachery Landsdowne was in charge of the airship. The crew aboard is comprised entirely of American naval officers and men. It was the first time that the Shenandoah went aloft without Captain Anton Heinin. He remained at the air station at Lakehurst.

The navy dirigible was enroute to Albany to take part in the tercentenary of the founding of the capital city of the state. The dirigible followed the course of the Hudson. After a cruise over Albany the Shenandoah will leave for Buffalo, thence to Binghamton, into Pennsylvania, flying over Williamsport, Reading and Philadelphia and then return to the naval station.

Radio Kept Washington Informed.

Washington, June 3.—The navy department kept in constant communication by radio today with the dirigible Shenandoah during its flight over New York state.

The position of the ship at all times and the weather conditions were known to officials here, who are anxiously watching the flight in view of the last disastrous runaway trip of the airship.

Reached Albany at 11:45.

Albany, N. Y., June 3.—The Shenandoah, the navy's biggest dirigible sailed serenely over the state capital at 11:45 o'clock headed due north. She circled over the city and then sped away up the Hudson Valley toward Troy.

She soon passed out of sight in the northern sky and the crowds which had packed the roof tops, returned to their work. Fifteen minutes later she came sailing back down the Hudson and circled once more above the city.

At 12:25 o'clock after hovering over the city for nearly three quarters of an hour, the Shenandoah headed west toward Schenectady. From there she will swing into the Mohawk Valley, continuing her flight toward the western part of the state.

The big ship was aided in her trip up the Hudson from New York by a stiff south wind. She made flight, nearly 150 miles by land, in about two and one half hours.

The big ship was flying so low over the downtown section of the city that the whirr of her motors could be plainly heard in the streets.

Just as she reached the business section, on her second circle over the city, her motors were stopped and she drifted slowly toward the west.

The dirigible is making the trip primarily to take part in Albany's three hundredth anniversary celebration which closes tonight.

Governor Smith and other state officials rushed to the front entrance of the capitol to get a good look.

Quick Time to Schenectady.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 3.—The Shenandoah passed over this city at 12:50 o'clock. She was headed due west. Crowds watched her from the roof tops.

Girl Discharged In Windham Case

No Complaint Made Against Anna Sobin by Attorneys For Persons Who Were Indicted.

Following the dismissal of indictments in the Windham murder case by Judge Howard in the Supreme court at Troy last week, Supreme Court Justice Rosch at Catskill on Monday afternoon discharged Anna Sobin, who had been held as a material witness, from the $5,000 bail which was fixed sometime ago.

District Attorney Coffin of Catskill told Judge Rosch that up to that time he had not received any evidence on which to hold the girl for the murder of seven year old Howard Rothenberg at Windham last August, the attorneys for the three persons who had been indicted having failed to make any charges which they intimated they would make when they were being heard by Judge Howard.

The girl's attorney, Lester R. Smith of Catskill, asked for her discharge from bail and for the protection of the court in view of threats which he cited against her. Judge Rosch refused the request for protection as being outside his jurisdiction.

District Attorney Coffin said the case of the girl had been considered by the grand jury which had handed down indictments last November and she had not been charged with any part of the crime. However, Judge William D. Cunningham and the Hon. Frank H. Osborne, counsel for the persons who were indicted, said they now held evidence against her, but he could not hold her until he received such evidence.

Mr. Coffin said that it was his wish, if there were dissatisfaction with his handling of the case, that a special prosecutor be appointed to take over the case and with that in view he presented Deputy Attorney General Keough.

Upon the discharge of the girl's bond Mr. Osborn rose and petitioned the court to hear the mother of the slain boy, Mrs. Rose M. Rothenberg. The court denied the plea.

Mr. Osborn, in a statement in court, said he would give the district attorney the evidence which he has.

Trolley Co. Must Repair Tracks

The board of public works in special session Monday afternoon directed Secretary Simon K. Winchell to notify the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company to make necessary repairs to the paving between its railroad tracks at once. If the work is not done within ten days, Superintendent Henry D. Darrow was directed to do the work and charge the cost to the trolley road. It is said that the trolley company has been notified to do the work before but had paid no heed to the notification, which fact led the board to take action in the matter Monday.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:

Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple.

Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary brans. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

There are millions of kitchens which are literally prisons. Three meals a day, 365 days in the year, represents a stupendous work program, yet millions of housewives do it efficiently and uncomplainingly.

But there is a way to lighten the burden of housewives, to improve their cooking, and to make both themselves and their families happier, with more time to play, and to enjoy life.

Thousands of housewives have discovered the New Perfection Oil Cookstove, which burns kerosene clean and odorless. It is practically automatic in its operation, ready to cook at the turn of the wick and the touch of a match, delivers wide range of heat—bakes, broils, boils, roasts and toasts. It banishes the dirty coal and wood cookstove with their inevitable dirt and ashes. It adds immeasurably to personal comfort, and makes the kitchen a cool and inviting place.

Your nearest dealer will be glad to demonstrate any style or size in the New Perfection line. Each one, from the famous Blue Chimney to the Giant Superfex, with the fast-as-gas burners, represents the utmost in cooking satisfaction at its price.

She Says:

"I Am Thin"

Her Friend Says:

"She Is Skinny"

If she only know that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good, healthy flesh in 30 days she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face and run-down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the ill-smelling, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, creates appetite, builds up the power to resist disease and chases away nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fewer people are taking it for doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets which druggists all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

It's a wonderful upbuilding medicine for children, especially after sickness, and sixty tablets only cost 50 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 12 days and if any skinny man or woman can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days, your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS

Mary Pickford will be seen this evening at the Keeney Theater in her latest United Artists Corporation photoplay, "Rosita." This picture pleased large audiences Monday and will be repeated tomorrow. Miss Pickford is not the pathetic or playful little girl of former roles, but has grown up to be a woman, who portrays a genuine heroine of a stirring melodrama.

At the Opera House this evening "Cupid's Fireman" will be screened. The picture is being shown under the auspices of the Excelsior Hose Company, who will have a benefit in the proceeds of the performances of the four days' showings. The hose company boys are raising funds for their trip to Hudson this month, where they will attend the annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

At the Auditorium tonight "What a Wife Learned," with a brilliant cast, including Milton Sills, John Bowers and Marguerite de la Motte. There is vivid action, a wild cattle stampede, glimpses of life on the two coasts and a thrilling flood scene.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 3, 1924.

Lady Astor is still a maker of pointed phrases that are remembered and quoted. Recently in the course of a debate on child labor, now a burning question in England, she said that some of the extreme members on the side of the present government "wanted to get to heaven without praying, and to get the best of this world without paying."

It is well known that in these times there is a pretty extensive mixture of nationalities in New England, yet it is surprising to hear from the Springfield Republican, in its reference to the American Bible Society's distribution of 7,101,289 Bibles in 1923, that "in Massachusetts alone translations in 42 different languages were included in the distribution."

EXEMPTING WEALTH.

Money can do much, even when some of the courts are concerned, but it is likely to make a pretty loud noise in the process and it can not keep people from talking. When Miss Abby Rockefeller was "up" for speeding in New York and no penalty followed the plea of guilty even for the second offense she got only a part of what she wanted. Her effort to hush up the matter and keep it from the public as well as from her father, son of John D., failed completely and inevitable publicity followed. If she had been fined like anybody else, so common an occurrence would have attracted little attention. But under the circumstances there was no end of talk, indignation and criticism, the latter directed more toward the authorities who were induced to fail in their duty than toward an imperious and thoughtless girl. We may well believe that every reckless car driver in the country is now asking: "If a Rockefeller can break the speed laws and 'get away with it,' why not I? Why should wealth be exempted in a matter of this kind?"

No doubt also there will in consequence be more "accidents," fatal or less serious, than there would have been otherwise. Already their number is appalling, and the country can ill afford any stimulation of the increase. "If speed slaughter is to be checked in city streets," says the New York World, "there must be severity and certainty in affixing penalties for illegal driving." The New York Times objects to the "blunder" of treating "the daughter of a very rich man in a way different from that in which others are treated." Obviously "blunder" is a pretty mild word in such a connection, particularly as applied to the authorities who allowed themselves to be tempted to ignore their plain duty.

ABYSSINIA AND LIBERIA.

The honors recently paid in Paris to Ras Taffari, nominal Regent and actual ruler of Abyssinia, has called attention once more to that country, one of the only two independent native states in Africa. The other is Liberia on the west coast, the two representing but 5 per cent of the population of the great continent. It is a curiously interesting fact that in both these independent native states slavery is tolerated and flourishes. Some years ago accounts were published showing that slaves from the interior could be purchased in Liberia at $10 a head, and not long since Abyssinia found difficulty in becoming a member of the League of Nations because of slavery within its borders. "Slavery flourishes in Abyssinia," says the New York Times, "despite its formal abolition more than a generation ago. It is estimated that in a population of four to eight millions there are nearly a million permanent slaves, while another million are held for export. Recent investigations have shown that the slave trade in Abyssinia has lost few of its historic cruelties. By seeking entrance into the League of Nations it has presumably consented to the extirpation of the hideous system."

Liberia is a negro State, dominated by descendants of freedmen colonized from the United States. Abyssinians are said to be mostly of the Semitic race, resembling the Arabs both physically and in structure of language. Their royal family claims descent from King Solomon. The only negroes among them are slaves from countries to the west. Abyssinia boasts a railroad of its own, telegraph and telephone lines and a national bank in the capital.

That Body of Yours

BLOOD PRESSURE AND THE TIME OF DAY.

You have been worrying about your blood pressure, because although accepted for insurance, and further assured by your family physician that you were all right, you have learned that your blood pressure was a "little high," or "above the normal," for your age.

Now as I've said before I would be the last one to belittle the importance of blood pressure, but there are so many factors that enter into it that you may have a high blood pressure at one hour of the day, much above the average in fact, and a blood pressure actually below the average at another hour.

For instance a physician wishing to allay the fears of one of his patients who was worrying over his pressure, adopted a very simple method of accomplishing it. They were neighbors.

Apparently returning from an early profession call one morning, he dropped in on his friend while the latter was still in bed, to borrow a book they had been discussing the evening before.

He sat down beside the bed, and said "Oh by the way, I'll just take that old blood pressure of yours while I'm here."

Chatting carelessly, he adjusted the arm band, and secured reading of his blood pressure, which was actually below the average.

The patient was only half convinced so the physician said "Well I'll see you later and we'll try it again.

"What about a game of golf this afternoon?"

"All right."

The two played over the full course in the afternoon, and after a shower, were sitting lounging in one of the smaller rooms of the club house.

Again, apparently as a passing thought, the physician produced his instrument and said,

"I might as well try your blood pressure once more." The reading was taken, again showed slightly under the average.

The patient was astonished but never again worried about his blood pressure.

Now what about this?

Well, early in the morning, before your heart gets going strong from food or exercise, the blood pressure is low.

During exercise and after meals it is a little higher than the average.

Toward evening when you are tired, before your evening meal, it is down again.

My point is that your blood pressure is not a fixed thing, but simply shows what is going on in the body.

If you are working hard, are excited, have just eaten, it will go up.

If it is high at other than these times, there is a reason which may or may not mean something serious.

LAWYERS WELL KNOWN HERE FORM NEW FIRMS

Announcement has been made in New York city that the law firm of Olcott, Bonynge, McManus & Ernst has been dissolved, two new firms having been formed by the members.

Judge William M. K. Olcott, Neilson Olcott, Joseph Glass and Monroe H. Schwarzchild will continue the practice of law under the firm name of Olcott, Olcott & Glass.

Former Assistant District Attorney Terence J. McManus, Irving L. Ernst, Walter E. Ernst and Walter A. Lynch will continue the practice of law at the same offices under the firm name of McManus, Ernst & Ernst.

Both firms will have offices at No. 170 Broadway.

Irving L. Ernst is well known in this city, having been chairman of one of the Ashokan real estate and damage commissions.

Judge Olcott is a brother of Eben E. Olcott, one of the founders of the Hudson River Day Line.

FRANKLIN OUTLINES DUTY OF MOTOR COPS

"To prevent violation of law is a greater work than to arrest and punish violators," says H. H. Franklin, president of the Franklin Automobile Company. "For that reason, I believe that all motor traffic officers in all communities should appear in uniform and patrol the streets and highways openly. Their presence would have the desired effect of discouraging motorists from violating traffic and speed ordinances and prove a much greater measure of safety than is the case where such officers are dressed in citizen's clothes and by surprise methods apprehend people after they have violated the law.

"An efficient fire department is better indicated by the number of fires it doesn't have than the number of fires it puts out. There are fewer speed law violations where traffic officers are in evidence."

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

SUSAN PENELOPE ROSE

An English portrait painter, was born in 1652. She was the daughter of Gibson, the dwarf, and painted in water colors with great freedom. The ambassador from Morocco sat to her and to Sir Godfrey Kneller at the same time. She also painted Bishop Burnett in his robes as Chancellor of the Garter. She died in 1700, aged forty-eight.

CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD.

William Harvey, an Englishman, who discovered and demonstrated the circulation of the blood, died in London 267 years ago today, June 3, 1657. The circulation of the blood through the lungs was hinted at by Michael Servetus, a Spanish physician, in 1553. Father Paolo of Venice whose real name was Peter Sarpi, discovered the valves which serve for circulation, but the honor of the positive discovery has always been accorded to Harvey. The latter was the son of a yeoman in Kent, and the eldest of nine children. He became a doctor of medicine in 1602. It was in 1619, that he made the discovery with which his name is connected, although, he did not publish his treatise on the subject until 1628.

KING GEORGE V OF ENGLAND.

Wherever there are Englishmen there will be celebrations today to mark the fifty-ninth birthday of King George V. Throughout the British Empire, extending to every continent of the world, the day will be a legal holiday, King George being the only monarch whose natal day is thus observed in all the divisions of both hemispheres.

King George's power and privileges have often been discussed, but he has many of which the general public knows nothing, and to which he himself has probably given no attention. That "the King can do no wrong" is still the law in England, and King George could not be held responsible for any crime, even if he were the sort of man to indulge criminal propensities, which of course he isn't. No subject may sue the King, yet the King may sue anybody. He may pardon any malefactor, for it is the "king's peace" that is broken by criminals. Legally the King is always present at every sitting of the law court and every session of parliament. He is the legal owner of the bottom of all British rivers, the legal guardian of all insane persons and idiots, and he has the sole right to print the Holy Bible in England and could, if he desired, prevent the printing of the Scriptures anywhere in the Empire.

SAINT REMY.

19 Arraigned in County Court

Defendants Who Were Indicted by Last Grand Jury Enter Pleas—Three Fined $50—Little Civil Business.

County court was convened Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with County Judge Joseph M. Fowler presiding. There is a trial jury in attendance but not a grand jury. Twenty-two cases appear on the civil calendar.

After the call of the calendar nineteen defendants were arraigned by District Attorney Traver. At the last term of Supreme court twenty-two sealed indictments were found and arraignments were made on these charges.

All but three of the defendants entered pleas of not guilty. One defendant entered a plea of guilty and later changed it to not guilty after consulting a lawyer.

Hugh Higgins of Ellenville, Max Cohen and Harris Kass also of the town of Wawarsing, were all charged with having a machine commonly known as a slot machine in their places of business, a violation of section 982 of the penal law. Upon their entering pleas of guilty, they were fined $50 each to be paid to the county of Ulster. All fines were paid. None of these defendants retained counsel.

Edward Conlin, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, first entered a plea of guilty and later after consulting Chris J. Flanagan, through his attorney he changed his plea to not guilty. The alleged violation took place in the city of Kingston on May 4 of the present year.

Louis Davis charged with having a slot machine in his possession in the city of Kingston on March 6, 1924, entered a plea of not guilty. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for the defendant.

James W. Hinckley, another alleged operator of a motor vehicle while intoxicated, alleged to have taken place in the city of Kingston on May 3, 1924, also entered a plea of not guilty and his attorney, Chris J. Flanagan, asked for ten days to make any motions in the case.

Samuel M. Post, charged by the grand jury with grand larceny in the first degree, alleged to have taken place in the town of Saugerties on April 18, 1924, pleaded not guilty. Grant M. Brinnier appeared for the defendant.

Vernon Fenney, Harold Fenney, Ira Ernhout and William Webber, four young men charged with abduction in the town of Olive on March 14, 1924, all entered pleas of not guilty to the charge.

Salvatore Gargano, indicted on two counts charging him with sodomy, alleged to have taken place in the town of Plattekill on January 6, 1924, entered a plea of not guilty. A. W. Lent appeared for defendant.

Leonard Phillips, indicted by the grand jury for possessing a pistol without a license in violation of paragraph 4, section 1897, of the penal law, alleged to have taken place in the city of Kingston last March, entered a plea of not guilty. A. J. Cook appeared for the defendant.

Lawrence Dixon, Herbert Wickham and Joseph Puzzin, charged with assault, second degree, in the town of Saugerties, all entered pleas of not guilty. Grant M. Brinnier appeared for Dixon and Wickham; Percy W. Decker of Catskill appeared for Puzzin.

Bernard Schwartz, charged by the grand jury with grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have taken place in the city last September, entered a plea of not guilty.

Edwin Schwab failed to put in an appearance in answer to a charge made by the grand jury and the court directed that a bench warrant be issued for his arrest. He later was brought into court by Sheriff Wells and his case was adjourned until next Monday at 2 o'clock.

Morris Miller, who for some time conducted a place on West Strand where numerous acts of violence took place, was indicted on three counts. He is charged by the grand jury with keeping a house of ill fame, with keeping a disorderly house in the City of Kingston and also with maintaining a public nuisance. The acts alleged took place on October 1, 1923, and continued from that date. Frank W. Brooks appeared for Miller who entered a plea of not guilty. Miller furnished bail.

When the court stated that members of the trial jury who had legal excuses might present them to the court and be excused, practically every juror stepped forward. The following were excused: Philip Bonesteel, Peter Blumenauer, Frank Blassy, August Boller, Horace Boice, John R. Beesmer, Henry Carl, Clifford Cashdollar, William Costello, DeWitt G. Crowell, Miller K. DuBois, James Dwyer, Andrew Eyett, Joseph E. Hendricks, Charles O. Jenkins, Oscar Mount, Willis Roe, Daniel Sampson, Nathan R. Sutton, Charles A. Warren and Fred C. Winters. Charles Scott was out of the county and was not served.

Although there are but few cases on the civil calendar which will be tried at this term, it was necessary to summon ten talesmen to be present at court on Monday, June 9, at 2 o'clock to which time court adjourned.

A day calendar was made up for that time as follows:

No. 3, Harry Elliott against John Carlin, James Carlin and John Ostrander, an action for assault. A. D. & A. W. Lent for plaintiff; Brinnier & Canfield for defendants.

No. 8, William E. Reynolds against Engelbert Rotengen, an action on contract. Van Etten & Cook for plaintiff; DuBois J. Gillette for defendant.

No. 9, Alphonsus Brown against William Marcus, a negligence action. Van Etten & Cook for plaintiff; Chris J. Flanagan for defendant.

No. 18, William Moore against Hiram Shultis, negligence action. An appeal from justice's court. John W. Eckert for plaintiff; Frank W. Brooks for defendant.

Judge Fowler announced that when court convened next Monday the services of the jurors, who may then be held for service would not be required for more than three or four days at most as the work to be done at this term was limited and he did not desire to keep jurors, especially farmers, longer than would be absolutely necessary at this time.

"I never realized washing a car was so easy"

EVERYONE knows there is only one way to keep a car really clean: frequent washings. Yet many people picture car washing as a disagreeable and time-consuming task.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Washing a car is not much more difficult than taking a bath. That is if you wash it the MOBO way.

Made especially for car washing, MOBO Auto Soap combines two great virtues:

First: it is harmless to paint and varnish; Second: it dissolves grease, oil, and caked-on mud and dirt just like magic.

Wash your car with MOBO Auto Soap the next time and note the difference.

MOBO Auto Soap is sold by all dealers in 1-lb. cans 40c; 3-lb. cans $1.00; 5-lb. cans $1.50; also in 10-lb., 25-lb. and larger size containers.

Made by John T. Stanley Co., Inc.—Est. 1865—New York, N. Y., U. S. A.

NATIONAL STERLING SILVER WEEK JUNE 2-7

When You were a Bride

YOU still remember the delicious thrill of anticipation every time a package arrived. Another gift! How eager you were to open it.

All the gifts were lovely, of course,—but truthfully, wasn't there a real thrill when you removed all the wrappings and found it Silver?

And when it was silver—remember, the first thing you did, not openly to be sure, but just the same, you did,—first thing you did was to look for the Sterling mark. When it was there you knew it was real. Your joy was complete.

Brides are the same to-day. They do want Silver—and yes—they still look for the Sterling mark. Make the bride's joy complete. Give her Silver—but it must be Sterling.

Confer with your Jeweler concerning your gift to the June Bride or the Girl Graduate. He will show you an infinite variety of designs specially exhibited during Sterling Silver Week.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By Mary Graham Bonner

RED ADMIRALS

"If you have ever thought that the butterflies had a Navy you are very much mistaken," said the Red Admiral.

"We Are Butterflies."

"We may have rather navy-like names, if that is the way I should speak of them, but we haven't any Navy at all.

"Perhaps I should say we haven't ranks as they have in the Navy.

"For example, there is no lieutenant and no captain and no commander and no seamen at all.

"Therefore we have no Navy. Besides, we haven't any ships and we don't go on the water. So you see we don't belong to a Navy and a Navy doesn't belong to us.

"We are also called Nettle Butterflies. I hope I made it clear from the start that we are butterflies. I think I did.

"But I shall now, at any rate. Yes, we are Butterflies.

"We have little hairs which scratch and annoy the enemies who might otherwise harm us. That is why we are often called Nettle Butterflies.

"Then we have the name of Red Admirals because we wear fine reddish suits.

"When we get a little older we become rather worn-looking, and so you will notice some of us and our clothes will look shabby to you.

"But when we are young we spruce up and look very fine indeed.

"Another reason for our name of Nettle Butterflies is because we are born where there are nettles. Our little homes are there.

"And there we are able to make our first nest and fix the leaf about us so that we are protected from enemies in this way, too, and also from bad weather. We find plenty to eat, as well, in the bits from the buds at which we nibble.

"Then we change our skins and move to a larger leaf home and eat and rest and make ourselves a little hanging tent, which we find most comfortable.

"I, myself, slept in the Chrysalis state all through the winter.

"But you will find throughout the summer more of the members of our family appearing.

"Wherever you find nettles you are apt to find us and, in fact, we're about a good deal.

"Of course we have enemies who destroy us and we don't always get the better of many a little insect nuisance.

"But here I am, enjoying the sunshine, telling my story, and what more can a butterfly want?

"Of course I've eaten well and rested well and grown strong and healthy—all because of my own cleverness.

"Possibly that sounds conceited. I didn't mean it to sound that way.

Rather Worn-Looking.

"I really meant that it was all because of the cleverness of the first Red Admiral who gave the first lesson and all the other lessons which were handed down from one brood of Red Admirals to the next.

"We change homes a bit—three nests is usually the number, and of course we moult. It is after we moult each time that we get a new nest.

"We feel fresh and newly dressed and we want a new home to match ourselves.

"People get new things to wear and stay in their old homes. But it is different with us, quite different," Red Admiral ended.

"Ha Ha!"

This laughing game is sure to be a merry one. A circle is formed and one child starts with the word "ha," the second says "ha ha," the third "ha, ha, ha," and so on, each taking his turn and adding one more "ha" than his neighbor. The "ha ha's" must be said without laughing, which is hard work, and before the circle has been gone once around almost all are laughing. As each one laughs he drops out of the game, and sometimes only two are left to carry on the contest.

Next to the Head

Man—Well, Thomas, how are you making it at school?

Boy—Pretty good; I'm up next to the head of the class.

Man—That's fine! How many are in your class?

Boy—Two of us.

Johnny's Latest Joke

Mother (to youngster who reached for something at the table)—Why did you reach 'way across the table like that? Haven't you got a tongue?

Johnny—Yes, but it would not reach so far.

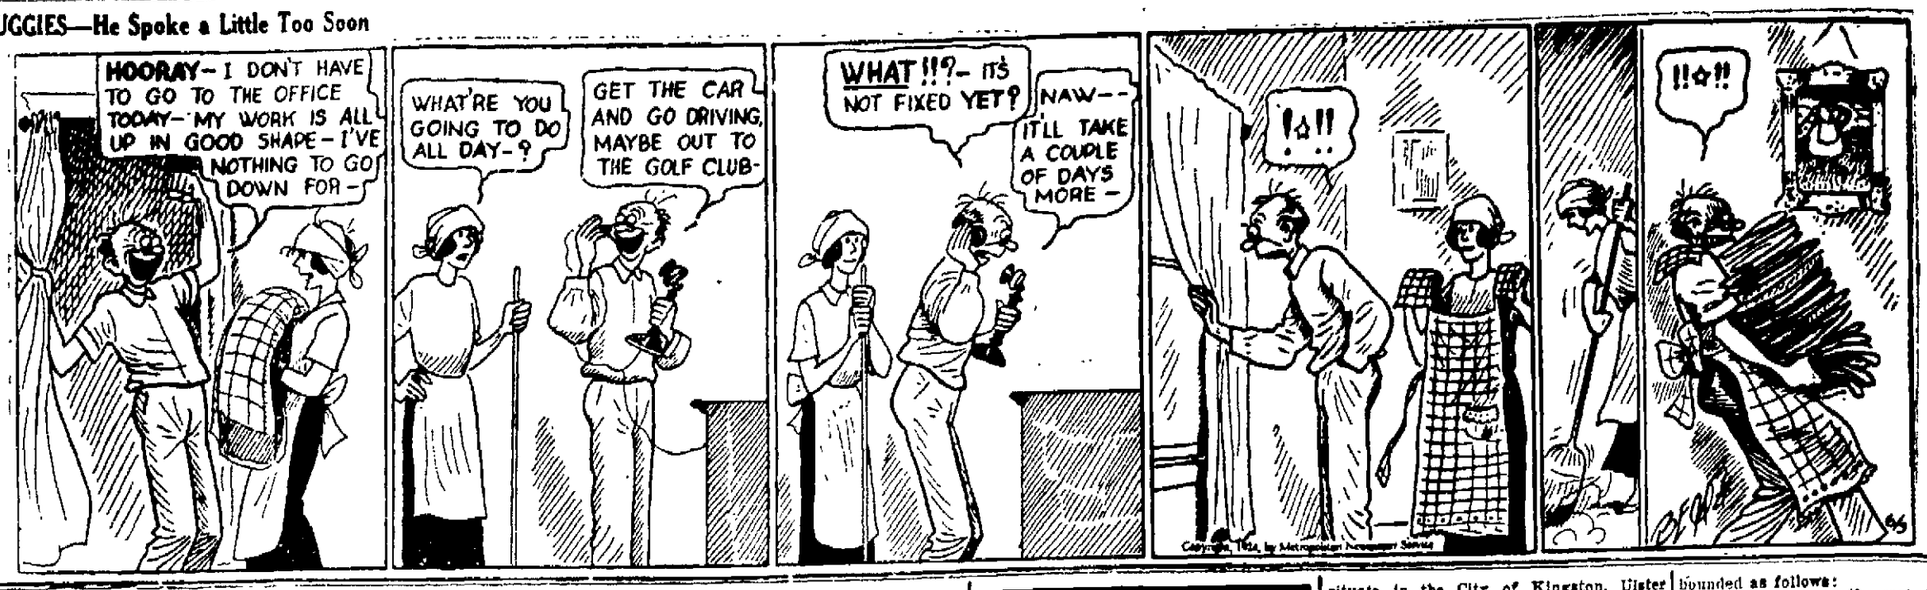
GAS BUGGIES—He Spoke a Little Too Soon



The KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by;
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking
And a gray mist on the sea's face and a gray dawn breaking.
—John Masefield.

THE FOUNDATION SAUCE

The foundation sauce for all creamed soups, sauces for escalloped dishes, soufflés and croquettes may be kept in mind so that there will be a right proportion of thickening for each dish to be served.

When preparing soups or thin sauces, the one-to-one proportion is used—one cupful of liquid, milk, stock or vegetable liquor, and one tablespoonful each of flour and butter. This proportion is used for all soups, escalloped dishes, as well as most meat sauces. These sauces are varied by different flavors and seasonings and may be used for pudding sauces as well as for vegetables, where a thin sauce is liked.

A tablespoonful always means full and leveled with a knife; a cupful is always one-half pint. When buying measuring utensils see that you get the standard sizes of spoons and cups. A measuring cup may look all right and still lack two tablespoonfuls of being a standard cup.

The one-to-two sauce is the same proportion of liquid to two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter. Flour is always sifted before measuring for any food. This is the most used of all sauces; it is thicker than the sauce number one and is better liked for all creamed vegetables.

When preparing escalloped dishes use the same quantity of sauce as food, adding in alternate layers. Cover with crumbs stirred with melted butter and brown in a moderate oven.

The one-to-three sauce is prepared in the same way, using three tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour. Melt the butter and when bubbling hot add the flour, then when well mixed add the liquid and cook until smooth. This sauce is used for soufflés, the yolks are added, then the whites folded in at the last. The yolks are cooked in the sauce just at the last, then cooled before adding the whites.

PESKY BED-BUGS

Perhaps you are ignorant of serious eggs that may under favorable conditions develop in the dry form of which your blanket is made. They continue to exist and are capable of living in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year?

To rid the pesky bedbugs, you readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones.

P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, moths and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devils Quietus P. D. Q.

A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, flies and moths and at the same time destroy their eggs.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free a patent spout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at places and save the juice.

P. D. Q. is not an insect powder, no mess or dust does not rot or burn the bedding.

P. D. Q. for family use 35c. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled.

City Engineers And Charity

Two of the Subjects Discussed Today at State Conference of Mayors at Rochester.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rochester, June 3.—Dollar grocery order charity was condemned by Commissioner of Charities Leon D. Dexter of Syracuse at the annual conference of mayors and other city officials in session here this afternoon. He also severely criticised the practice of entrusting helpless humanity either to well-intention but sentimental, untrained individuals or to hungry officeseekers.

In his discussion of the essential features of an efficient city charities department, Commissioner Dexter said that the time has passed when a commissioner of charities can give a dollar or two-dollar order for groceries and coal and at the end of the year boast in his annual report that he has given relief to a greater number of individuals at less expense than ever before. He contended that adequate relief is indispensable and that inadequate relief creates criminals and produces pauperism. He said "It is a waste of funds and energy to attempt to rehabilitate a family by inadequate relief for what is saved in groceries and coal is usually spent in hospitals, asylums and reformatories."

"The essential features of an efficient city charities department," concluded Commissioner Dexter, "is the individualization of the work. We can no longer treat our [illegible] in classes or in groups, but there must be an attempt in the part of the poor-law officers, on the part of everyone engaged in this great work of social reconstruction, to get down to individuals, and to recognize the wide diversity of the causes of the condition which bring our people to us for assistance. We must establish our relief and social work on a clinic plan, where those who come to us come, not as paupers, not as orphans, but as individuals needing some form of social treatment. The slogan of modern charity is prevention."

The disposition of an angel, the education and technical skill of all the scientists, a good appearance, a persuasive tongue and a thick skin, are the essential qualifications of an efficient city engineer as laid down by W. Earl Weller, of the Rochester Bureau of Municipal Research in his address at this morning's session of the New York State Conference of mayors and other city officials. Mr. Weller criticized the state department of education for its method of licensing engineers in this state, and also the attempt that is being made in some cities to divorce the engineering staff from the department of public works.

Discussing the relation of the city engineer to the administration, the public and contractors, Mr. Weller made these recommendations, which he frankly labeled as radical:

"I would remove the city engineer entirely from contact, except in an advisory capacity, with the general executive functions of the municipality. By that I mean that we should politely but firmly ask him to relinquish his chair or chairs in the governing board or boards of the city. Secondly I would make his position a real, honest-to-goodness, civil service position. If there is any man in the city employ who should be out of politics, for good, sound political reasons, it is the city engineer. Some day—and soon, I think—some of you mayors and aldermen and comptrollers who pride yourselves on your astute political sense are going to awake to the fact that in these days of high taxes the voter is more susceptible to the call of efficient service than he is to the blandishments and crudities of self-seeking ward heelers.

"In his relation to the public, the engineer occupies the position of an expert and must stand ready, if need be, to sacrifice personal popularity to the public good. I do not mean that eternal disagreement with his public entitles him to a place in the hall of fame. Neither do I mean that he should extract a martyr's joy from public criticism. Rather he should be hurt—cruelly—sometimes by public censure even when he knows that censure to be unmerited. The engineer should religiously avoid any superfluous idea of his own superiority. Any time he catches himself referring to non-technical components of the public as 'laymen' he should pick a fight with a local Dempsey and take a beating as the only sure way of bringing his view point back to normal.

"It has been my observation that the engineer who enjoys the reputation of being a difficult man for contractors to get along with is usually acclaimed the paragon of virtue by city officials and citizens alike. This is most unfortunate, because an engineer, in his effort to court popularity, is most likely to fail to distinguish between firmness and foolishness. It is so easy for the engineer to bathe in the public esteem by adopting the popular view point that a contractor is just naturally a criminal. If this merely affected the engineer it would not be a matter of concern. It does, however, affect to an unmeasurable degree the city in whose interest the engineer is supposedly working. An engineer who has the courage to be fair with contractors is an asset to the city that employs him."

Parked Sleepers Paid $5.

Wrinkles Gone !—After Only Ten Minutes' Treatment

New Spanish Discovery Quickly Restores Youthful Bloom Regardless of Age

Every woman knows where age first shows its power to mar beauty. She dreads to look in her mirror for fear of finding deepening lines in her face; she dreads to examine her hands for fear flabbiness and tiny wrinkles will warn her of disappearing youth. But there is no longer any need to fear your mirror!

Wrinkles cannot remain longer than 10 minutes if Onamor is applied. Onamor is the name of the marvelous new discovery made by the Spanish Chemist, Jacques Romano. Senor Romano has produced a scientific combination of pure ingredients which, on its first application, removes the wrinkles, crow-feet, and frown lines that can so disfigure the most beautiful face.

But Onamor does not stop there. Used night and morning its purpose is to remove every trace of every wrinkle from face or hands, to eradicate blackheads, refine enlarged pores and bring back the glowing complexion and smooth contours of youth which advancing age threatens to destroy.

Onamor can do this because it works on an entirely new principle. It is unlike anything you have ever used before. Onamor rejuvenates the skin. It stimulates the blood circulation and eliminates flabbiness. It vitalizes and builds up living tissues to their normal vigor—it gets at the cause of wrinkles and so removes them.

Onamor requires no massaging. Its power is contained in the cream itself. It is absolutely pure and harmless; contains no clay or earth of any sort to imbed itself in the skin.

And Onamor is sold with an absolute money back guarantee.

Go to any druggist or department store named below and purchase a tube of Onamor with this guarantee of satisfaction; if you are not delighted with the wonderful improvement in your complexion from the very first application of Onamor, every cent you paid for the tube will be refunded. Try it to-night before going out. The results will amaze you.

You can get Onamor with this guarantee at the following good stores:

McBride Drug Store, W. S. Elting, Maben & Walker, Bongartz Pharmacy, Weber's Pharmacy, Connelly Drug Co., Wonderly Co., Rose Gorman Rose, or write for free book "How to Prevent Facial Ageing" The Onamor Co., 95 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Girl Scouts Hold Spring Frolic

The Girl Scouts of Ulster county held their annual frolic at Forsyth Park on Saturday afternoon. They commenced to arrive just before noon and by one o'clock the park was filled with scampering, khaki-clad figures, gay with red, yellow, blue and purple ties, denoting the various troops to which they belonged.

The whole county was represented in the gathering, Scouts having arrived by automobile and bus from various towns and villages where the organization is flourishing. The swings and slides were a source of joyous shouting and fun until the luncheon hour, when the Scouts gathered together in troops and consumed the goodies which they had brought with them. One enterprising troop, captained by Mrs. Earl Haley (attached to School No. 8) hit upon an idea to raise money to send themselves to camp—and conducted a thriving ice cream cone business.

Two o'clock found several hundred Scouts gathered together in a huge hollow square on the baseball diamond for the opening ceremony with the flag. Judge Jenkins, representing Mayor Block, gave a most friendly and inspiring talk to the girls, welcoming the Scouts and their organization to Kingston, expressing boundless faith in their program and offering the cooperation of the city government for all Girl Scout projects. He spoke highly of Camp Wendy, which the Girl Scout Council is conducting for a season of eight weeks at Wallkill, N. Y., beginning July 5th, recommending it as a summer activity for every Scout and urging the parents to allow their daughters to attend.

The program continued with enthusiastic singing of Scout songs by the whole gathering. The singing of rounds was especially good, showing that the Scouts had been skillfully trained in harmony and that they sang for sheer love of it. The singing was followed by relay games and knot contests by the different troops, followed by a short Health Play, showing in a humorous and interesting fashion how public health can be controlled by good housing and sanitation. The program closed with the ceremony of the Scout Laws, a short symbolic ceremony in which ten girls, illustrating the ten Scout Laws, set forth the purpose and ideals of Scouting.

The program over, a huge circle was formed, and scores of young voices were lifted in singing "Taps."

Registrations for the Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill are now open. Blanks may be secured from Miss Anne Roos, No. 76 Maiden Lane. Girls are urged to register within the next week if they wish to choose their own camping period, for the ranks are filling so rapidly that they will soon have to be placed whenever there is room in the camp. The board is seven dollars a week, two dollars of this being sent in at the time of registration.

State Income Tax Refund

For Those Who Failed To Deduct 25% When They Paid 1923 Tax—Little Chance Of Income Tax Law Being Repealed, As Money Is Badly Needed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, June 3—The state income tax bureau is getting ready to refund between one-quarter and a half million dollars to taxpayers who failed to deduct 25 per cent when they paid their income tax for 1923. A law providing for a 25 per cent reduction in last year's tax was enacted by the last Legislature at the request of Governor Smith.

The total income tax collections for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1923, have reached $26,667,686.58. After the refunds have been made, the tax experts estimate that the total for the state will be about $10,000,000 less than in 1922.

On July 1, $16,000,000 will be sent to county treasurers by the income tax bureau for the use of localities.

"The forces in the Income Tax bureau are now engaged in sorting, coding and filing the returns," said Director Thomas M. Lynch today. "We ask those taxpayers who failed to deduct 25 per cent from their tax to be patient because of the inevitable delay which will ensue in refunding the amounts due them."

The law enacted by the Legislature permitting taxpayers to deduct 25 per cent in paying the tax on their 1923 incomes will mean a loss of about $8,000,000 to the state.

While no one has even attempted to estimate the amount of money which the state loses each year through persons who do not pay an income tax when they should, employes in the tax department believe it to be thousands of dollars.

Many letters have been received by the tax department asking if the law enacted by the 1924 Legislature permitting a reduction of 25 per cent would apply to the 1924 income tax. That statute only applied to the 1923 tax. If there is any reduction in the 1924 tax, another law will have to be enacted by the Legislature during the coming winter.

There is little chance, it is said, that the income tax law will be repealed for some years to come because the money is badly needed for the support of government. When the income tax law was first placed on the statute books, it was thought it would only be necessary for a few years.

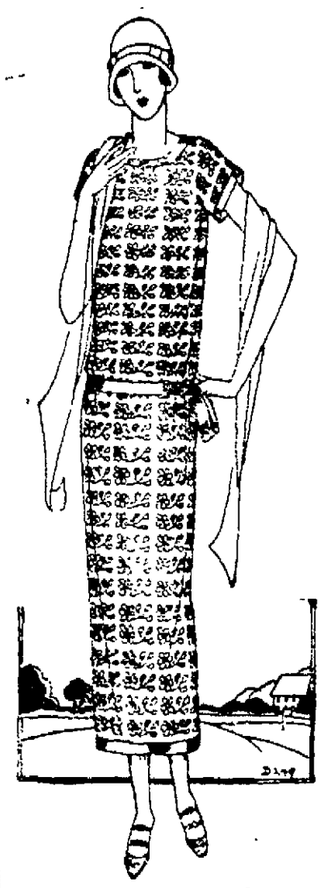
WOMEN FAVOR SPORTS DRESS WITH SCARFS

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

The fashion world is united in its belief that the biggest sports clothes season on record is at hand. This conclusion is the logical deduction from reports of the smart world. Even French women, who are not usually partial to clothes of this genre, are wearing tailored and sports things for practically every hour of the day.

The cotton voile frock and others of that ilk play second fiddle to tub silks made on rather severe lines. Frocks which have a plain shirt sleeve with straight wristband or turnover cuff and neck which opens in a V, are preferred to others for business, travel, sports or general utility. Some women, however, sponsor the sleeveless summer gown. The long shoulder seam is always introduced in sleeveless models for sports or day wear.

Blouses subscribe to the sleeveless mode, especially those which are meant to be worn with a coat, for one pair of sleeves is sufficient in sultry weather. Many argue that they are sufficient at all times, the costume or ensemble suit very often having a blouse sans sleeves.



The passing throng testifies to the suit mode, and one feels astonishment over and gratitude to the tailors for turning out such infinite varieties. The success of the suit depends very largely on their ability to vary the theme. Jacket lengths vary, and their fastenings involve buttons in single or double file. Double breasted models are well liked if the buttons are placed low, and one finds many little reflections of the Directoire in suit details.

The leading suit fabric, now that the spring tailleur is dismissed from our minds, is flannel, with white and Madonna or sky blue in the lead, and yellow for resort wear. Flannel rarely was as esteemed as it is this season. It is used for dresses, separate skirts and blouses, for suits and to an amazing extent for coats.

It is sometimes a question of coat or suit. This season, however, gives one no such alternative. One must have both, and their usage is not interchangeable. The three-quarter coat may serve two purposes. It may become a unit in the ensemble for one of the fascinations of assembling a three-piece costume is that it may be accomplished with blouse, skirt and coat, or dress and coat. One need not even hesitate in supplementing a flannel suit with a sports coat of another color or cut.

The use of fur is one of the most important coat features. Baby fox, squirrel, weasel, chipmunk, and all manner of furs find themselves safe from the cedar chest and mothball this summer. The coat sans fur is exceptional, and usually belongs to a tailored woman, or one who is a slave to the scarf.

"Skinnay's" Collar Line Vanishes Before Searching Gaze of Teacher, Who Believes In Health Education

"If my teacher asts me what is the forest prime evil or how to spell backerlawryet and if I was to a swell movie last night and didn't study my lesson I can usally tell her that the prime evil of the forest is toad stools or I can spell backerlawryet with a lotta extra letters and maybe I'm right and maybe I'm not. At any rate I gotta chancet. But when my teacher says pull down your collar so as I can lookit your collar line to see if you washed your neck as I told you, then there's no maybe. It's either clean or it aint.

"She's took to the habit of asking this question every morning after we finished singin' My Country Tizzothee. First off I tried rubbing it clean while she was coming up our aisle but she got suspishus and wanted to see 'round back where I hadn't had a chancet to rub.

"She thinks she's purty smart but Skinnay and me we figured out a way to fool her on April Fool's Day. When we gets up in the morning we grabs a wash rag and a hunk of soap and a lot of hot water and we washes our necks and our ears and behind the ears too. You don't need to bother with your hands because your hands get washed from handling the soap and wash rag all 'cept the thumm which you gotta rub extra. And then whatta you think we do? We takes some I-dine and dabs it on our neck right under our ear and teacher comes along and she says oh! lookit the dirt on your neck and everything and we spits on our finger and tries to rub it off and it don't come off because its I-dine and then we laughs and shows her how clean our neck is all but the I-dine and we tells her April Fool it's only I-dine.

"It worked great and the rest of the fellers and girls lafft and Teacher lafft and then she says open your mouth and we opens our mouth and she says did you put I-dine on your teeth too to make em yellow and me and Skinnay we quit laffing but the rest of the fellers and girls lafft all 'cept Mickey.

"So now Skinnay and Mickey and me we got tooth brushes. I got so I don't mind being clean though it was tuff at first. Skinnay and me was gonna have a lot of fun last Sattidy and Sundy gittin all dirty and we didn't wash no necks nor nothing Mundy morning but it wasn't fun, what with Teacher not knowing anything about it."

The statement given above was made by one of about 70,000 youngsters throughout the country whose teachers are competitors in the health education contest being conducted by the American Child Health Association among elementary school teachers. The prizes consist of fifty scholarships of $500 each given by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to promote health education.

Receiver for Bachelet Co.

Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley of Albany, on the petition of Schuyler C. Schultz, Arthur J. Burns and Kathryn D. Boice, a majority of the board of Directors of the Bachelet Medical Appliance Company, Inc., of this city, a domestic corporation, for a voluntary dissolution, has appointed County Judge Joseph M. Fowler temporary receiver, and John W. Eckert, referee, to take testimony.

The first hearing will be held on July 8, at the office of the referee, Wall street. A. D. and A. W. Lent of Highland are attorneys for the petitioners. The company was capitalized at $150,000.

The petition for an order for the dissolving of the corporation and the appointment of a receiver of the property and effects, which was filed with the court recites: "The petitioners state that they have discovered that the stock, effects and other property of said corporation is not sufficient to pay all just demands against it for which it is liable, or to afford a reasonable security to those who may deal with it and for the reason that the operations of said corporation have been conducted at a loss practically from their beginning. It has considerable obligations due and about to become due and numerous of its creditors are insisting upon immediate adjustment of accounts and obligations."

The company was capitalized at $150,000. There is $10,000 preferred stock held by people from New York city, Brooklyn, and Tenafly, N. J., Elsie M. Hoecker of the latter place, holding $8,200 of this stock. There is $63,300 of common stock outstanding, considerable of which is held by Kingston and Ulster county people.

Select Mondell For Chairman

He Will be Permanent Chairman of Republican National Convention—Former Republican Floor Leader of House.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland O., June 3.—Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, former Republican floor leader in the house of representatives and now a member of the war finance corporation, has been selected to be permanent chairman of the Republican national convention which opens here a week from today.

Announcement of Mondell's selection was made this morning by William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, President Coolidge's manager who destined to take over the chairmanship of the Republican national committee next week.

Simultaneously with the announcement of Mondell's selection to be permanent chairman, Butler also confirmed the fact that Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, now ambassador to Mexico, will be chairman of the resolutions committee which will draft the platform.

Ambassador Warren is now en route to the United States from Mexico City.

Mondell's selection had come somewhat as a surprise for he has not figured in the pre-convention reckoning nor has he taken any part in the Coolidge campaign. He retired from congress two years ago after a service in the lower house of 25 years, in order to run for the senate. He was badly defeated by his Democratic opponent, Senator John B. Kendricks. Following his defeat he was given an appointment to the war finance corporation, where he has since served.

His appointment was dictated by the desire of the president and his campaign managers to go west this year for all the honors possible in connection with the convention and because of the ex-floor leaders' familiarity with conditions in the agricultural regions. Only last winter Mondell and Eugene Meyer, Jr., also of the war finance corporation, made a ten thousand mile swing through the west investigating the agricultural depression and at its conclusion, they rendered a lengthy report to the White House.

Representative Theodore Burton of Ohio, already had been selected as temporary chairman and keynoter of the convention and President Marion LeRoy Burton of the University of Michigan to place President Coolidge in nomination.

The completion of these details leave the convention next week but two outstanding problems—nomination of a vice-president and the writing of a platform. In both these tasks the president's hand will be the dominating one of the reins, despite Mr. Coolidge's reluctance to give any appearance of "dictation" in the selection of his running mate.

Butler, it is understood, has informed his colleagues on the national committee here that the White House has no other particular choice at this time.

The platform will bear heavily on questions of domestic economics and lightly on international affairs if the leaders now here have their way. This is understood to be entirely satisfactory to the president.

Insurgents Mar Leaders' Plans

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 3.—The rumble of an approaching insurgent filibuster today marred the plans of Republican and Democratic leaders to adjourn the 68th congress June 7.

The unswerving opposition of Senator LaFollette, Republican, of Wisconsin, insurgent leader, toward adjournment was not feared half so much by senator leaders as his implied threat to filibuster for the remainder of the week. With a score of supporters, it was pointed out that LaFollette might block final action on four pending appropriation bills, a dozen lesser administration measures and force administration leaders at last to agree to a summer session.

LaFollette was known to have the support of Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho and Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska in his tentative plans for a filibuster. In addition, he was said to command the assistance of a dozen Republican and Democratic farm bloc members along with his tried and true insurgent group. By speaking several hours each, it was admitted that this group could block the legislative machinery from now until Saturday night, thus forcing a recess until after the political conventions instead of adjournment.

Brookhart's Lead In Iowa Slight

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 3.—With incomplete returns on hand from about half of the 2,412 precincts in Iowa and reports drifting in slowly from the rural districts today, the senatorial and gubernatorial candidates in Monday's state-wide primary elections were so closely bunched that it was practically impossible to pick the winners.

In the race for Republican nomination for United States senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican governor incumbent, was leading Burton E. Sweet, former congressman, by a slight margin. In 1,176 precincts Brookhart had 105,823 votes and Sweet 102,145.

In the governorship contest, not one of the six candidates seemed likely to get the 35 per cent of the total vote cast necessary to nominate. John Hammill and W. J. Burbank were running neck and neck.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 3.—Prices were firm at the opening of the stock market today. Fractional advances were witnessed throughout the list. In some cases gains amounted to a point or more. Chandler Motor, for instance, rose 1⅜ to 46⅞ and General Electric one point to 219½. United States Steel rose ⅝ to 96, Colorado Fuel ⅜ to 40¾ and Baldwin ¼ to 109¾. Studebaker rose ¼ to 33½ and U. S. Rubber first preferred ⅜ to 69¾.

Oils were steady.

Railroad stocks were slightly higher.

President Coolidge's action in signing the tax reduction bill had only a mildly stimulating effect in the forenoon trading on the stock exchange. The list refused to become excited over the event.

Transactions were in slightly larger volume compared with yesterday's negligible total, but dullness was still the outstanding feature. Values hardened as the session progressed, but it was obvious that a good portion of the gains resulted from the closing out of the short commitments with the exception the advances achieved in the so-called investment issues and the public utilities which were attributed to buying of the very best kind. Utah Securities, American Water Works and North American established substantial gains, while such standard dividend paying stocks as General Electric, Baldwin, U. S. Steel, American Can, Norfolk and Western and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western were under persistent accumulation.

In the more speculative field motor shares were outstandingly strong, probably in connection with the optimistic views as regards the automobile situation expressed by the president of the General Motors Corporation.

Independent steel also showed up well in spite of reports of still lower iron and steel operations in some districts. Oil shares were steady to firm. Leather and tire stocks improved on short covering. United States Cast Iron Pipe was benefited by pool manipulation.

Low priced railroad shares followed the trend of the industrials, ruling moderately higher.

Call money renewed at three per cent.

TO REPEAT FARMYARD MINSTRELS AT ST. PETER'S

To say that the first night of the Farmyard Minstrels at St. Peter's was a huge success would be putting it mildly, for the production from start to finish was an uninterrupetd laugh provoker. Beginning with an original pantomime introduction and opening to a novel and attractive setting, the show more than justified the claims of its modest advertisers.

Rarely has such an abundance of high class talent been gathered in an amateur performance. Ballad singers, dancers, end men and the well-trained chorus are to be congratulated on the unusually good minstrel. Their combined efforts succeeded in presenting to a crowded hall of delighted listeners.

The minstrel will be repeated this evening at eight o'clock. Dancing will follow with music by Balfe's Orchestra. Refreshments will be served as usual.

Missionary At Zion Tonight.

The Rev. Mrs. Henrietta Peters, noted missionary to Africa, of the A. M. E. Zion Church, has arrived in Kingston to lecture at the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Peters was at Newburgh last night and lectured at the Washington Street A. M. E. Zion Church. The church was packed to its doors. Everyone who hears Mrs. Peters is impressed with her personality and sacrifice in helping to win Africa for Christ. There will be a large attendance to hear her this evening. Refreshments will be served at the close of the lecture.

Near East Bundle Days Over the Top

Kingston Responded to Appeal for Clothing by Furnishing Enough to Fill 19 Boxes and Two Barrels.

Kingstonians went "over the top" again last week when bundle days were held for the collection of clothing for Near East sufferers, and as the result of the appeals broadcast through the newspapers and pulpits of the city churches enough clothing was collected to fill 19 large boxes and two large barrels.

The goods collected by the committee and delivered at the three bundle stations were afterward taken to the city hall, where they were packed for shipment. Today the nineteen cases and two barrels were shipped to New York city on one of the boats of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company and delivered to Near East Relief headquarters.

On behalf of the Near East Relief committee appointed by Mayor Block when an appeal was made for help in Kingston, the following statement was made by Mrs. Elizabeth McGowan Hall, chairman of the committee:

"The mayor's committee is highly gratified at the response of the people of Kingston to the appeal for relief in the Near East. The people of the city of Kingston met the appeal in the way we expected, the same as they always meeet all deserving appeals.

"The committee is especially grateful to the newspapers for the publicity which they gave to the appeal and to the city pastors for their announcements; to the city newsdealers who distributed the appeal in printed form with their newspapers; to John D. Schoonmaker and J. Graham Rose, who undertook the tremendous task of packing the gifts of the people for shipment to the Near East; to the Central Hudson Steamboat Company for gratuitously carrying the nineteen boxes and two barrels to New York, and to everyone else who in any way aided the committee in this most worthy cause.

(MRS.) ELIZABETH McGOWAN HALL.

Fanaticism Not Approved by God

Pastor Pretzsch Speaks on Various Forms of Fanaticism, Which Has No Place in World Today.

The Rev. William H. Pretzsch, the pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, preached the following sermon on Sunday, choosing from the gospel of the day the text John 16, 2 and 3: "The time cometh that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things they will do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor Me."

Jesus Christ said these words to His disciples, but He said them and still says them to all believers; for all who believe in Christ and imitate the life of Christ are His disciples. Christ says that persecutions will come, and why they will come. He refers to religious fanaticism, or bigotry. So called religious people might be led to persecute and kill their fellow beings in order to satisfy their religious feelings and ambitions. It was the religious frenzy of the Jews that caused the death of Christ. It was the religious bigotry of the heathen that brought about the killing of the disciples and the first Christians. It was religious fanaticism that gave us the inquisition and in our country, in Fort Carolina, the massacre of the French Lutherans by the Spaniards.

Religious fanaticism comes from the idea of being absolutely right, and positive that everybody else is wrong. This idea then grows to the danger point of declaring one's self infallible, that is, not able to make a mistake. Finally this idea reaches the climax when it assumes centralized or unlimited power. Jesus knows that this sad condition of affairs will arise and so do we. Savonarola, John Huss and Jerome of Prague were also victims of this absolute, infallible fanatical religious power. It was tried on Martin Luther, but failed, because it clashed with the almighty power of God.

What is, therefore, this self assumed idea of being so right, infallible and powerful? It is a delusion, a mistake. Because Christ says in the text, that they think they are doing God a favor when they kill those who differ with them in doctrine. He further says, they do these wicked things because they don't know the Father nor Him. Christ wishes to say that no Christian would kill anybody, because God says: Thou shalt not kill, and because He teaches: Love thy enemies. Christians are to be good Samaritans to bind up wounds and to comfort the afflicted in their pains, and not to persecute and murder those who are of a different faith, even if their leaders urge them to do it in the name of God.

Under such circumstances the laity should rise and answer their fanatic leaders: We must obey God rather than you; you are fallible, wrong and fanatic, God tells us to love one another, the idea of universal brotherhood appeals to us more than universal butchering. Dear friends, will the laity of fanatical leaders ever speak that way? Yes, if we do our to enlighten the world. How is that done?

Help to put the Bible in everybody's hand, for the Bible will enlighten every one to know, that Jesus Christ is the head of His church and will not let any one take His place on earth. Christ never aroused His Christians to kill, and He will not change His mind. Therefore He wants to remain Head of the Church so that all Christians will love one another and be kind and gentle.

We should also strive to have impressed upon the minds of all people the blessedness of our democratic form of government which guarantees absolute freedom to all religious denominations. Keep your eyes open that no men enter Congress who are not in sympathy with keeping church and state separate No man should be elected head of our nation, who places his church above his country. If religious views come before national welfare, the candidate must be defeated to bring him to the knowledge that no church potentate, elsewhere or here, will be permitted to bind his hands in this our free country.

We like the congregational form of church government. It keeps all church leaders on the same level. It places the power in the hands of the congregation. We do not like to use stepping stones in ecclesiastical ascendency, where self glory is sought, and the glory of Christ and brotherly love for everybody is overlooked and finally scorned. Every leader of the church glories in serving, but renounces power.

We welcome publicity. We are glad to see the good records of people. We are grieved to read the accounts of evil deeds. But let us read the reports of the evil deeds of all people even if they are leaders in the church. We think that muzzling the press, when church leaders band together to keep their public transgressions out of the newspapers in order to pose before their own and other people as holy. Publicity of wickedness will often bring about a better state of heart than a confession in private. As soon as all people will have learned that the church leaders are not perfect and not holy, they will accept unreservedly the great Bible truths, and we shall hear no more of killing in order to make them all one denomination.

Two Overcome By Smoke at Fire

Deputy Fire Chief Murphy and Fred Longendyke Toppled Over at Fitzpatrick & Draper Cigar Factory Fire Monday Night—Factory Closed for Few Days.

Fire, thought to have been caused by some one throwing a lighted match or cigarette stub through an open window of the cellar of Fitzpatrick & Draper's cigar factory, Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street, Monday evening, set fire to a pile of tobacco and filled the big factory with a dense cloud of smoke.

Smoke was found pouring out of the open windows of the building and an alarm of fire turned in from Box 45, at 9:56 o'clock to which the fire department quickly responded.

Fred Longendyke, a salesman and office assistant at the factory, when he heard the alarm left his home and hurried to the scene. When he found smoke pouring out of the building his first thought was to attempt to save the cigars packed and ready for shipment. These cigars are kept in hermetically sealed rooms on the top floor of the building. There are small windows in the rooms.

Mr. Longendyke plunged through the dense smoke to the upper floor and reaching the rooms in which the cigars are kept, he managed to open the windows to allow the air to circulate before he toppled over, overcome by the dense smoke. Other employes who had been called to the scene by the fire alarm helped to get him out of the building and he was attended by Dr. A. A. Stern. Today he had completely recovered and was back on the job.

Through the efforts of Mr. Longendyke it is believed that none of the cigars were damaged by the smoke.

The fire was found by the firemen to be confined to a small heap of loose tobacco and was easily extinguished with chemicals. In fighting the fire Deputy Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was also overcome by smoke and was forced to leave the building. He was made extremely ill by the smoke he inhaled but today was again at work.

Employes of the firm were busy today checking up the stock and endeavoring to estimate the damage. It is not believed that the damage will be very heavy as the stock was not as large as usual. Whatever loss there is, however, is covered by insurance.

The factory will remain closed for a few days.

Other Gifts For T. B. Hospital.

TEXAS LANDMARK IS BEING RAZED

72-Year-Old Schoolhouse Has Romantic History.

Austin, Tex.—Austin's first schoolhouse, the parent of all Texas educational institutions and a landmark in the Southwest, is being razed in preparation for the erection of a modern residence upon the site where the school has stood the last 72 years.

A bride's wedding gift, the old structure has in turn been a home, a schoolhouse, a powder magazine for the Confederate army, a public meeting place, and in the later days a boarding house for university students.

It was built in 1852 by the slaves of Louis Horst, a land baron of those days. It has changed hands only twice in its history and is now owned by Edward Booth, who wants to erect a modern dwelling on the site.

Its limerock walls have withstood even an attack by the federal army, whose soldiers, during the reconstruction period, ripped off its roof and all its floors to make platforms for their tents.

Erected in 1852.

The occasion for the erection of the house was the marriage of Miss Louise Horst, daughter of the great landowner, to George Robinson in 1852. The bride's father owned a vast tract of land, including the present university neighborhood and all north Austin, extending approximately as far south as Fifteenth street, which then marked the northern boundary of the city limits, though the town itself was at that time a full mile away, situated upon the banks of the Colorado.

Horst desired to build his daughter a home as a wedding gift. Accordingly, in the year of her marriage, he built the ancient structure which stood until recently in as firm a condition as it was on the day of its completion. The "lot" which went with the house included practically all of present north Austin.

Used as Powder House.

In 1862, when the Yankees captured New Orleans and Galveston, excitement ran high in the southern part of the state, and three forts were erected to guard approaches to the capital city. The rock edifice was then turned into a powder house and magazine for high explosives. But when Dick Taylor with a handful of Texans defeated Banks and Porter at Sabine Cross Roads in April of 1863, the excitement died out, and the old house was emptied of its military equipment and again made into a schoolhouse.

Louis Horst, grandson of the elder Horst who erected the house, and a resident of Austin at the present time, spent his first school days in this old hall.

Refuge in Indian Attacks.

For many years the seven-room rock house was a refuge for people living in the neighborhood when Indian attacks were made. Numerous legends concerning scalpings and Indian atrocities that occurred around the old landmark are yet told.

The nearest to destruction that has ever fallen to the lot of the ancient building, prior to the razing now going on, occurred during the first days of the period of reconstruction following the Civil war, when Union troops were stationed in Austin to reinstate federal power and the state government. They pitched their tents on College hill, where the plant of the University of Texas stands today; but when it rained the ground became too damp for their convenience. The soldiers were then ordered to make lumber floors for the tents, wood for which was to be taken from the old rock schoolhouse. The school was broken up and every board in and on the house was taken—the porch, window frames, blinds, doors, roofing, floors and all. Nothing was left but the rock walls.

The elder Horst appealed several times to the legislature for damage done to the building by federal troops, but indemnity was never obtained.

Milk-Burning Engine Draws Cars 20 Miles

Chicago.—Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago, ran a train over the Rock Island tracks from the Englewood station to Beverly Hills and back, about twenty miles, using for fuel chunks of dry milk instead of coal.

When the skeptical crowd reached the station Doctor Bundesen was at the throttle in the engine cab and F. Rothmiller, the fireman, was shoveling chunks of dried cow's milk into the fire box. During the entire experiment that was the only thing fed to the fire. The locomotive pulled a train of five cars, carrying more than 200 passengers, mostly children, from the Chicago Home for Friendless Children and the Chicago Orphan asylum.

Water-Well Fight of Bible Times Recalled

Jerusalem.—The old quarrels over water wells in the times of Abraham, recorded in the Bible, were recalled by a serious quarrel which broke out between two Arab tribes in the neighborhood of Valadzi.

In a dispute over the rights to the only water well in the vicinity, the two tribes engaged in a battle which resulted in the death of one person and the wounding of eight others.

The authorities have started an investigation and sent a force of police to the district.

Cuban Stars Here Tonight

At the Fair Grounds this evening at 6 o'clock, the first twilight game of the season will be staged by the Colonials. The opposition will be the Cuban Stars of Havana, Cuba. This Cuban team comes here highly recommended.

Just how the Schirickmen will line up against this team is not known. Robins will be out of the game for some time and a good catcher is not so very easily had. Perry, Coutant or Corregan will get the pitching assignment.

Wednesday the Colonials play the Hospital team at Middletown and Thursday the Middletown team comes here. This means that the pitching staff of the local team will be kept busy this week.

All Stars Lose To Millerton

The All Stars went down to defeat Sunday at Millerton in an eleven-inning contest by the score of 7-6. Keegan started for the local club and yielded six hits in two innings for a total of six runs. Steve Connelly who pitched for the local club in Maybrook, held the hard hitting Millerton club without any hits. He retired in the fourth with a sore arm. Cragin then took up the pitching burden for the rest of the game giving them five hits. Silvernale, a spitball pitcher, hurled for the home team letting the locals down with twelve hits one of which was a home run by Stumph. He slapped the first one of Silvernale's offerings for one of the longest hits ever seen on that field.

The local club scored in the nrst inning when Stumph first man up, hit for the circuit.

Millerton scored four runs in their half of the first on three hits and one error.

The All Stars scored again in the fourth when hits by Stumph, Connelly and Lynch netted the local club two more runs.

In the eighth Stumph got hit with a pitched ball, Connelly hit to right, Lynch then sent one over the second baseman's head. Cragin next up hit one to right field driving Connelly and Stumph home. This tied the score making it six all.

In their half of the eleventh Melines hit to center, Brendline flied to Sickler. Burns flied to Black. Ratburg then drove one out sending Melines home with the winning run.

Oneonta Giants Going Good.

Hitting timely and often and fielding brilliantly behind excellent pitchers, the Oneonta Giants won their three opening contests at Neahwa park on Memorial day and Saturday, and lost the contest at Johnstown Sunday through a combination of extremely hard luck and a wretched diamond. The Syracuse Olympics were defeated 12 to 1 and 7 to 0 on Friday, and Chappie Johnson's Colored Stars submitted to a 6 to 2 defeat on Saturday. The game was lost at Johnstown by a 6 to 3 count.

Mickey Walker Still Champion

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Philadelphia, June 3.—On the head of the New Jersey boy, Mickey Walker, the welterweight crown of the boxing kingdom still sat firmly today, after he had gained a judge's decision over Lew Tendler, Philadelphia southpaw, in a ten round bout here last night.

The 20,000 odd persons who milled into the National League ball park saw the local aspirant for the title fight a hopeless battle—there was a time when even Lew thought he might win and he put everything he had into the punches. But as the bout wore on and he was unable to get the champion with his famed left, he slowed down.

Walker, while putting up a great fight at times, when he needed to stop Tendler's rallies, did not seem to be able to hit with any great regularity. He missed the challenger time after time with swings which would have been haymakers had they landed.

Ball Yawps From Tannersville

Foolish Boasting from Mountaineers Keeps Them Warm During Cold Weather and Prevents Mouth Muscles Getting Flabby.

The Tannersville Times-Record appears to have a new baseball writer who never has watched The Colonials play baseball, but instead has beet sitting around on cold days listening to the Tannersville line of ball talk which the players find necessary in order to keep warm in the early spring and also to keep up courage throughout the year.

Consequently, the Tannersville publicity writer has been led to imagine that "Kingston baseball fans are gnashing their teeth 'in rage;" that "For several seasons, they have been told that Kingston had a baseball team and then, one day, down would come a few mountaineers from Tannersville and spatter their touted club all over Schirick's flower garden."

"Not being able to win at baseball," says the Tannersville Times-Record, "the Kingston sports thought to scare the mountaineers by talking big bets. After the game, trucks would dash out of the Colonial city loaded with specie enroute to the mountain fastnesses of Tannersville."

Eliminating the many other frothy crazy-quilt patterns which the Tannersville team has scattered while using up good paper and ink, the Tannersville Times-Record gets to the point where it states that "When Schirick hears that a mountain player is to be dropped because he isn't fast enough for the Tannersville club, the judge signs him up at once. By this method Kingston has been able to gather together a team of experienced and well trained players every year. The first game scheduled for this year is with the Colonials on the Kingston diamond on July 4th. A double header will be played which will make Kingston just twice as sorrowful than if it had been a single game."

Tannersville also seems to believe that "Tannersville is going to have a baseball club this year that will cause so much goose flesh among the Kingston players that Schirick will have to honk when he wants to give instructions. After the first game the Colonial players will come flying on the field in V shape formation and will be up in the air during the entire game."

As the weather forecaster predicts regular summer weather by the first of July, it will not be necessary for the Tannersville fans to blow any more such hot air in order to keep warm, and its absence will be especially noticeable on the Fourth of July.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES IN THE MAJOR LEAGUE.

Rosy Ryan was bad, but Tim McNamara was worse and the Giants won a hollow victory over the Braves 9 to 6.

"Young" Max Carey knocked his first homer of the season and started a rally which won for the Pirates over the Cardinals 6 to 2.

Walter Johnson pitched another of his masterful games, striking out seven, while his Senators were walloping the Athletics 8 to 3.

Last Night's Fights.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York—Johnny Dundee won 12 round decision, Louis Vicintini, Chile. Phil Kaplan, New York, won from Harry Martone, Jersey City, foul, seventh round.

Pittsburgh—Eddie Shevlin of Boston won decision from Eddie Burnbrook, of U. S. Army, ten rounds.

Dick Condon of Altoona and Johnny Rini of Cleveland, stopped in sixth by referee, who charged fighters stalling.

League Milk Plant on Wheels

The Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., has an emergency milk receiving station on wheels, the first of its kind in the world. The plant was conceived by and built under the direction of Harry A. Sieck, chief engineer of this association. It is now being operated on a siding opposite the Erie Railroad's depot at Hankins, Sullivan county, N. Y.

If a league plant is destroyed by fire, or a breakdown puts an operation out of commission, or the necessity arises for a diversion of milk, the portable receiving station will be drawn by a railroad locomotive to the place where the emergency exists and the handling of milk will go on as if nothing had happened.

The plant in itself is a complete receiving station with a capacity of 250 cans, or 10,000 quarts a day. The plant is contained in two standard refrigeration cars, each 40 feet long. One is a power house; the other the milk handling station.

The power car contains a refrigeration plant, a high pressure boiler for heating water and generating steam, a direct current light and power system and an electric driven compressed air unit for the agitation of milk.

The power car carries a reasonable amount of fuel oil, a full complement of supplies, tools, piping, etc., together with a conveyor system for adopting each operation in its particular location. It has storage space for 75 cans.

A farmer delivers his milk at the door in the middle of the second car. The milk is dumped into the weigh can and weighed. The farmer's cans are passed to the washer at the back end of the car where they are washed, sterilized and dried almost before he can drive his rig away from the door. The milk passes from the weigh can to the receiving vat which has a capacity of 200 gallons. It is then pumped through an internal tube cooler where it is cooled while en route to a glass lined tank with a 600 gallon capacity. From the tank the milk is run off into 40-quart cans in which it is transported to the city markets.

Trolley And Ford Hit.

This morning a Ford sedan owned by Patrick McDonough of this city and a Kingston City trolley car collided at Broadway and Stuyvesant street. The trolley car was not damaged but the front of the Ford was badly damaged. The conductor of the trolley car was Edward McDonough, a brother of the owner of the Ford car.

$300,000 Spent by Elks for Charity

In his annual report made at the twelfth annual convention of the New York State Elk Association Monday at Buffalo, President Philip Clancy reported a membership of 84,441 in the seventy-five lodges in the state.

The report of State Treasurer Jay Farrier of Oneida showed the state lodges jointly spent more than $300,000 last year in charitable work.

In addition to the election of James A. Farley of Haverstraw as president, the convention elected F. Stephen Beck of Freeport, vice-president for the southeast district; A. M. Luethe, Niagara Falls, vice-president for the southeast district; Robert Kelsey of Oswego, vice-president for the north central district; Arthur G. Holland of Ithaca, vice-president for the northeastern district; Amos Foote, Utica, re-elected secretary, and Jay Farrier, Oneida, treasurer.

TOY BALLOON TRAVELED 43 MILES IN 45 MINUTES

A Tannersville merchant who was curious to know more about air currents than he could determine from listening to the idle boasting of the Tannersville baseball team set loose several toy balloons recently to which he attached business cards of his firm, on the back of which he wrote: "Come to the Metropolis of the Catskills on Memorial Day."

He received a letter two days later from a man in Troy who fixed the time at which he had picked up the balloon in North Troy—a distance of forty-three miles as it might be flown by a crow anxious to get there and did not stop on the way to eat.

The toy balloon had covered the entire distance of forty-three miles in forty-five minutes.

Balloon sailing of this kind probably will be undertaken on a large scale when Fourth of July balloons make their appearance in the market.
